DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. The amendment filed after final on April 10, 2009, is noted with appreciation. No claim amendments were made and claims 1-4 and 6-10 remain pending.

Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments regarding the 102 rejection are not persuasive. As noted at paragraph 3A of the prior Office action, neither the specification nor the claims clearly and unambiguously requires that the group capable of being activated by ultraviolet radiation actually generates a free radical. The instant specification merely states that activation can generate a free radical, but does not require it. Further, with respect to claims 2 and 8, the Examiner notes that both of these claims are product-by-process claims, where patentability is based on the product. Since the cited art shows a precursor having a release agent which contains a poly(meth)acrylate ester having the desired functional group, the means of deriving said poly(meth)acrylate ester (i.e., which reactants were used) is irrelevant and the products are the same or similar. The burden is on Applicant to show how the products are patentably distinct. See MPEP 2113.

3. Applicant's arguments regarding the obviousness-type double patenting rejection are persuasive. It appears that the wrong claim of US '354 was referenced in the prior Office actions. The finality of the prior Office action is hereby withdrawn and prosecution reopened to clarify the record.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1-4 and 6-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by WO 01/64805 A2.

A. These claims remain rejected as set forth under this heading in the prior Office action and as further explained above.

Double Patenting

6. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the “right to exclude” granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Art Unit: 1792

7. Claim 1 is rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 3-11 of U.S. Patent No. 6,660,354. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the subject matter of the copending claims is fully encompassed by the instant subject matter.

8. Claim 6 is rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 12 of U.S. Patent No. 6,660,354. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the subject matter of the copending claim is fully encompassed by the instant subject matter.
